

DHMP Neuropsychology Tip sheet

Neuropsychology Testing

Neuropsychological tests are specifically designed tasks that are used to measure a psychological function known to be linked to a brain structure or pathway. Tests are used for research into brain function and in a clinical setting for the diagnosis of deficits. Below are the DHMP benefits by line of business (LOB) for Neuropsychology Testing.

Medicaid

Managed by Colorado Access (Behavioral Health Diagnosis)

When it comes to neuropsychology testing, there's a procedure code component to what services are included in the BH benefit, but there's also the diagnosis component as well.

Neuropsychology testing is a benefit covered by the capitated Behavioral Health Program which is managed by COA. If neuropsychology testing is for a behavioral health diagnosis, please fax requests to 720-744-5130.
